Dear Mr. Friedman:

I wanted to thank you for your valuable guidance in managing stress. Since attending your one on one sessions, I have been able to manage my stress levels. The proven techniques that you taught me are easily applied at anytime, even toward the most stressful situations. It is truly amazing to see how much you can control your stress once you teach someone the stress relieving techniques.

Your guidance in stress management has influenced me so much, that it is a pleasure to now have you working with my staff at my business. The seminar that you conducted for my staff was a true success. My employees are already looking forward to the next seminar in July. Again, the techniques taught and your style of teaching creates a winning combination when it comes to stress management. No one should be without your services.

Again, thank you very much, and we all look forward to a very long working and stress free relationship with you.

Sincerely,
